

AURORARAMA

JEAN-CHRISTOPHE VALTAT

“We’re not readers of sci-fi or fantasy, but this book really blew us away. Written by a French smarty-pants who told us he just wanted to be the next Jules Verne, we were fascinated by his wild language, amazing literary allusions, and bizarre-but-true historical references. Polar kangaroos, dirigibles, hermaphrodite Siamese twins, revolution—what’s not to love?” —VALERIE MERIANS, CO-FOUNDER

MELVILLE HOUSE CELEBRATING TEN YEARS OF ROCKING THE BOAT
